THEME: Transferring America's TVET Innovative Strategies

Are you meeting your professional leadership goals at your technical and vocational school as a principal officer, educator, bursar, accountant, an executive or an administrative staff? How does your role connect to the school's mission and hold students as central to your work? Do you feel supported and empowered by your supervisor and colleagues? Have you set and maintained boundaries so that you have adequate time to execute your work?

About the Conference

This Conference helps you to understand why technical and vocational education is credited with American successful economy. It provides template on how to develop your workforce for job creation. Guided by experienced Conference leaders and working with a group of individuals in similar situations, develop your own professional development plan for implementation. Enhance your ability to deliver results that positively impact all constituents' school experience. In cooperation with Texas Southern University College of Continuing Education, Americas Empowerment Institute deliberately designs a wide-ranging focus in our program to provide choices and variety that will appeal to our very mixed audience.
